

Mr MAURIZIO FRANZINI

Maurizio Franzini is professor of Economic Policy at Sapienza, University of Rome. Previously he was at the University of Siena.

Head of the Department of Economics and Law; Director of the PhD School in Economics of Sapienza, University of Rome; Director of Criss (Research Center on the Welfare State joining Siena University, Sapienza University and Bocconi-Milan University); co-editor of the journal "Meridiana"; coordinator of the Research Area "Economy-Environment Interaction" of the European Association for Evolutionary Political Economy (Eaepe). He has been the Scientific Coordinator of the EU commission funded Strep project "Inequality: Mechanisms, effects and policies" (FP6).